DRESS REQUIREMENTS

Clothing that advertises worldly items or lifestyles should not be worn by girls or guys. Campers may be requested to change their outfit if it is, in our estimation, immodest, indecent, or inappropriate for the weather.

Guys should wear modest jeans or casual pants for the morning sessions and all activities. Nicer pants (like khakis) and a collared shirt are a good choice for supper and the evening services. Please leave all jewelry at home.

Girls should wear modest* culottes or skirts for the activity times and skirts or dresses for supper and the evening services. Tight-fitting or low-cut clothing is not permitted. Snow-pants may be worn for outdoor activities.

Friday evening is traditionally a time to dress up, and there will be a prize for the best themed costume!

In our estimation, a modest skirt must be long enough to completely cover the knees while sitting.*

As a Christ-honouring camp, Chill-Out! seeks to maintain a high standard of Christian conduct. We endeavour to provide an environment that is safe, spiritual, and encourages respect for others and a closer walk with God. Therefore, any behaviour that is not conducive to this aim will warrant immediate attention by the camp administration, and parents will be notified if necessary. Cigarettes, alcohol, drugs, electronic games or music players are not permitted. Cell phones must be handed in to cabin counsellors at the beginning of camp.

CAMP PREACHER

RYAN SWANSON

Ryan Swanson is an evangelist dedicated to proclaiming freedom and hope through Jesus Christ. Along with his wife, Stephanie, Ryan leads a purity ministry called Satisfied Ministries. This calling to purity ministry is deeply rooted in his own experience of God's grace and personal deliverance from years of bondage.

The Swanson family frequently travels across North America and abroad preaching purity seminars, purity-focussed revival meetings, and training churches to use The Cord App – an accountability tool they developed to provide biblical accountability for those seeking victory in this area.

Satisfied Ministries shines a light on a struggle often hidden within churches, offering practical tools and spiritual guidance to confront it head-on. Through God's power, they are seeing lives transformed and victory claimed in hearts that had given up hope.
